PC:

By this petition the petitioner has impugned order dated 22.5.2000 passed by the Caste Scrutiny Committee, Pune, whereby the caste certificate submitted by the petitioner was held not entitling her to any benefits as she was not belonging to State of Maharashtra. During the pendency of this petition interim relief was granted by virtue of which the petitioner secured admission for the degree course.

2. With the assistance of the learned counsel appearing for the petitioner and the respondents we have scrutinized the impugned order. In our opinion, it requires no interference as no jurisdictional error or other illegality is committed by the Committee. The order impugned is therefore liable to be confirmed and is hereby confirmed.

3. However learned counsel appearing on behalf of the petitioner has pointed out to us that after interim order in April, 2002 the petitioner successfully prosecuted degree course and has acquired degree in pursuance of studies. In our opinion, no fruitful purpose will be served by depriving the petitioner the fruits of her learnings. The degree so acquired by her shall not be cancelled merely because she is not held entitled to the benefits flowing out the said certificate in the State of Maharashtra. With these observations petition is disposed of.
